DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1,6-20,24 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure which is not enabling. The presence of apertures, perforations, slits or cuts critical or essential to the practice of the invention, but not included in the claim(s) is not enabled by the disclosure. See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976). See page 9 of the present disclosure.

2. Claims 1-5,15 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Morgan et al (3,994,771), Bredendick et al (5,861,081), Tseng et al (5,652,035), Atkins (2,130,375), Milliken (2,113,431 or 2,281,945) or Bletzinger et al (2,950,223).

The claims are rejected for the reasons given in the Office Action, Paper No. 8.

3. Claims 6,7,17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morgan et al (3,994,771), Tseng et al (5,652,035), Bredendick et al (5,861,081), Atkins (2,130,375), Milliken (2,113,431 or 2,281,945) or Bletzinger et al (2,950,223).

The claims are rejected for the reasons given in the previous Office Action.

4. It is again noted that if the independent claims are properly amended to include the limitations of apertures and thickness index of 4, the claims would be allowable.

5. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are deemed unpersuasive of patentability.

It is urged that In re Mayhew is limited to method claims and not the product claims at hand. In re Mayhew is not limited to just method claims. In the present case, the invention requires apertures in order to achieve the disclosed and claimed thickness expansion.

The sheet product of prior art references like the presently claimed product is an apertured creped paper. In the absence of any specified degree of expansion upon the application of tensile force in the claims, it would be reasonable to expect that the prior art product would expand to some degree no matter how small.

The arguments relating to the rejection of claims 6,7 and 17 under 35 USC 103 are not convincing for the reasons given in the previous Office Action.

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
